

THANKSGIVING PHANTASY -- If turkeys were as large in size as they are in importance at this season of the year they would dwarf the people who raise them and put them on the same lot they would make a picture something like this trick one devised by Gregg Fox, a Semmler Press photographer. It is a good thing that turkeys don't get as big as they appear to be here. If they did the question might be who will be the dinner -- the turkey or the man.

Will Co. Zoning Board OK's Golf - Housing Plan

A recommendation that the Will county board of supervisors approve zoning to permit a housing development bordering an 18-hole golf course east of Frankfort has been given by the county zoning board of appeals following a hearing at the Cooper-Horstert garage in Mokena.

The proposed improvement would be known as the Hickory Creek Country club and would lie in a 135 acre tract south of the Michigan Central railroad and bounded by Harlem avenue and the E.J. & E. railroad right-of-way.

The developer is the A.T. McIntosh and Co. It proposes to have single family residences facing the golf course which would be an 18-hole layout. A clubhouse will be erected, according to Charles Howland, representing the developers.

The plans are to have the course ready for use by the spring of 1963. It would be about a mile and a half east of the village of Frankfort.

The appeals body heard objections to a request for a light industry zone for a lot in Lincoln Estates and so is recommending a business zone instead. This would permit Rudolph Misysak to fabricate steel towers for TV and short wave reception. He is building a concrete block structure 22 by 45 feet on the south side of U.S. 30 between River and Hillside roads, two miles east of Frankfort. Objectors said they did not oppose small business operations in the area but feared what might happen if it were zoned for light industry.

Continued for further study was the request filed by Attorney John B. Anderson, Jr., for a business zone on the north side of Hickory road west of Cedar road.

He explained that the request was made so that a barn there can be converted into an antique shop. Lawrence Saxon is said to be purchasing the property and plans to build a house.

Lester Brown, of the New Lenox planning commission said that body wanted to study the matter further. The planning group has recommended a residential development in that locality. Attorney Anderson said that the barn has been leased for storage for a number of years and is in a non-conforming use.

This hearing was conducted in the Rock Island depot at New Lenox.

The county board will meet in December.

Voters in the Lincoln Estates area approved a $69,000 bond issue on Aug. 19, for the construction. The addition will consist of two conventional classrooms.

One-Door Flats Fire Hazard, Declares New Lenox Trustee

Building apartments in New Lenox with only one door is contrary to all safety rules two of the village trustees have declared and they will seek to have the condition corrected.

The apartments in question were built along U.S. 30 at the west end of the village by the F. & L. Co. Each building contains four living units. According to information given Trustee Eugene Hunt the builders plans call for 11 such given Trustee Eugene Hunt the buildings.

Two of the buildings up have no back doors, according to Hunt and one has.

Hunt and Trustee Robert Randolph want construction of the other units halted until the village can be assured the apartments will have back doors.

Randolph brought the subject up at the meeting of the village board last week and described the absence of back doors as extremely hazardous. "If there was a fire," Randolph said, "people in those buildings without rear doors could be trapped. With only one door as an escape I am afraid the occupants would have difficulty in getting out."

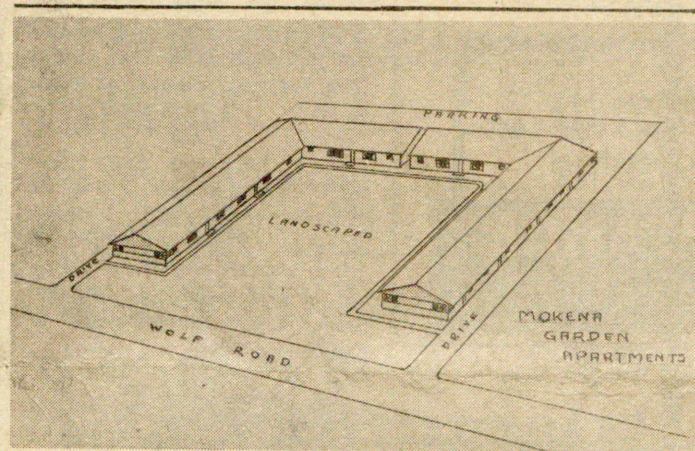

"I have seen bodies of fire victims and I don't want to see anything like that in New Lenox. I am also taking this up with the members of the New Lenox fire department. It is my understanding that we can enact a fire code that would govern the location, construction and design of all buildings, and the fact that the buildings are already up would not free the owners from conforming with the Code now."

Trustee Hunt said this week that he was writing the state fire marshal's office at Springfield requesting information as to what steps the village can take to eliminate fire hazards in building. One of the suggestions made was that the village require construction of firewalls between apartments in this row type of building. In the meantime permits for the other apartments are being withheld.

It was stated that the apartments going up on Cooper street are built with fire walls between the living units. These too are row type flats.

The village board adopted an amendment to the liquor license ordinance so that if and when the bowling alley project designed for the Veterans of Foreign War land is completed there will be a club license available so it can operate a bar. The measure would limit the number of saloom licenses to three until the population exceeds 2,000. The additional licenses could be issued on a basis of one to every 500 population over the 2,000 mark. For additional club licenses the population figure would have to be higher, one for every 2,000 population over the original 2,000. New Lenox has a population now of some 1,800 it was stated.

The village has purchased a gun that - a "bullet" comprised of a - ug which will Helgeson Outlines Plans For Mokena Building Apt.

The apartments planned by George Helgeson of Brightwood on Wolf road near Bryant ave. at Mokena would be of one-story, brick construction, of L-shape design and so placed on the site that they would have the effect of a square-bottomed U, with the space in the center devoted to flowers and shrubs.

Before he can proceed, however, the village zoning ordinance will have to be amended, it was stated. Village officials have indicated they favor such a project.

Mr. Helgeson explained that each of the units would contain six living units, five of them three and a half rooms and one of four and a half rooms.

The construction is designed to provide vapor sealed walls, specially insulated as the apartments will be heated by electricity. Such conveniences as refrigerators, stoves and ovens will be built into the kitchens. The windows will be equipped with shades and draw rods. He also plans to have air conditioning.

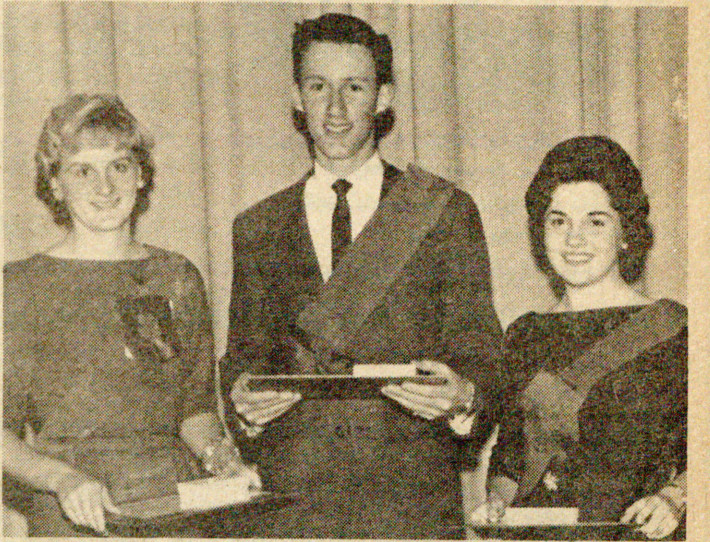

These apartments will be thoroughly modern, Mr. Helgeson

Dinas Receive Word From Son via Ham Radio

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony A. Dina, 138 Front St., Mokena, were pleasantly surprised Saturday night when they received a telephone call from Phoenix, Ariz., bringing them news of their son on Okinawa.

The Military Amateur Radio service at Phoenix had made radio contact with Anthony, Jr., 20, where he is stationed on Okinawa with Headquarters company, Honor Guard, U. S. Marines. The M.A.R.S. then relayed the message, via phone, to the Dina family here.

render a dog unconscious and easy to pick up. It was explained that the police car could not be used to transport dogs so shot because the animals become violently ill. If used at too close range, it was said, the pellet could kill, but at a reasonable distance it only temporarily paralyzes, it was explained. The gun cost approximately $150.

Death Takes Mr. Baudry

Suddenly stricken ill at his home on Tuesday of last week, Florimond Baudry, of 123 E. Denny st., Mokena, was taken to Silver Cross hospital and died there the following day Nov. 15. He was 69 years old.

Mr. Baudry, who had been a resident of Mokena for the past 31 years, was a chef until his retirement several years ago and he served as such in various restaurants and clubs, including Oak Park Country club, Southmoor, Blythfield County club (Michigan), the Pearson hotel, Chicago, and the Orrington hotel, of Evanston.

Mr. Baudry was born in France Jan. 20, 1892, and he studied and practiced cooking there before coming to the United States.

He is survived by his wife, Julia, who also is a native of France, a daughter, Lydia, and a son Stanley E. Baudry, both with the Mokena State bank; two grandsons and two sisters, the latter residing in France. A son, Edmond, died in 1957.

Removal was to the Hirsch chapel at Tintin Park where services were held last Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the Rev. Robert King, pastor of the Mokena Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in St. John's cemetery, Mokena.

SYLVANDE FARM of Mokena, which is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Marcoux, has raised some fine Herefords in the past and they hope that the semi-yearling steer here will win high honors at the International Livestock Show that opens this Friday in the Chicago amphitheater. Mrs. Marcoux, holding the animal, said the steer would be handled in the show ring by Lauterbach and Deininger, Will county stockmen who make a business of showing cattle. The steer here was born and raised at Sylvandale Farm and was grand champion of the Will county fair at Peotone this year.

Linda Schwab, a New Lenox junior at Lincoln-Way Community High School, has been selected by the Art Department, which is under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Kinney, to design the library bulletin board displays during the 1961-1962 school year. Linda has charge of a hall bulletin board outside the library, as well as one within, to challenge her artistic abilities.

More than fifteen hours were required to produce the board pictured. Linda used her little brother's clothing to dress the scarecrow; and she achieved a very good three-dimensional effect in the cornfield. The letters in the caption give the effect of having been made from ears of corn to emphasize the fall theme.

In three years, thirteen of the library bulletin boards have been accepted for publication in the Wilson Library Bulletin whose headquarters are in New York City. All of the displays were created by students enrolled in art courses at Lincoln-Way.

Mokena Amvets, Party, Dance Set For Dec. 7 At VFW

Plans were made for the pre-holiday party for members of the Mokena Amvets and its auxiliary when the auxiliary met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Bernard Hoogstra.

The affair will be Dec. 9 at Mokena VFW hall, in remembrance of Pearl Harbor day. Dancing will take place from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are $1 a person.

The auxiliary is purchasing child survival cards for distribution in the schools, both public and parochial, in Mokena and the school in Arbury Hills. The cards tell children the "do's" and "don't's" of riding with strangers and other hazards.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagman of Riverside, Calif., were houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Munch last week. Mrs. Wagman is Mr. Munch's sister whom he hasn't seen in nine years.

The next meeting of the Friendly circle of St. John's church of Mokena which is to be held Dec. 14 will begin at 7:30 p.m., instead of 8 o'clock. The meetings are held in the church.

Chaperones on the tour included Mrs. William Howard, director; Mrs. Paul Kniernier, Mrs. Berle Needham and Mrs. William E. Collins of Frankfort.

When the general meeting of the Naomi and Susannah circles of the Methodist church was held last week, Mrs. John Petersen led the devotions. Members viewed a film for the program. Hostesses were Mrs. William Bradley, Jr.; Mrs. William Bradley, Sr., and Mrs. Berle Needham.

Devotions entitled "Into All the World Together" were presented by Mrs. Roy Kropp, missionary chairman, at the meeting of the Woman's guild of St. John's United church of Christ Thursday. She was assisted by Mrs. Clarence Mast, Mrs. Fred Cappel, Mrs. Edward Strassenburg, Mrs. David Noble, Mrs. Henry Luplow, Mrs. Everett Creer, Mrs. Emma Klose and Mrs. William Bass.

The Mokena P.T.A. will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 28, in the Carpenter Street school at 8 p.m. Frank Goetschall will present a timely talk on Civil Defense, dealing with procedures and responsibilities toward the safety of the child and student. He will also present a film en-

Not What You Cook With But How, Test Shows

Research in the University of Illinois home economics department has provided more information about electronic cookery -- this time in the vegetable line.

After cooking fresh and frozen vegetables by both electronic and conventional methods, the researchers report that there were no important differences in the palatability or ascorbic acid retention of the cooked vegetables. They found, however, that the amount of cooking water and to a lesser extent the cooking time had more effect on the ascorbic acid retention than either method of cooking.

Anne Kylen explains that the factors considered in palatability were the standard items: appearance, color, texture and flavor.

The research team tested fresh broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, peas, green beans, soybeans and spinach. Also, frozen broccoli, green beans and spinach.

Thanksgiving Day! This is the time to count blessings. This is a day for families and friends to get together. This is a day to feast and be joyous. This is the day on which tradition rules. The turkey and pumpkin pie make their appearance in menus throughout the year but traditionally they belong to Thanksgiving.

While out Thanksgiving day has been handed down from the time when the Plymouth settlers had harvested their first crops and colony appeared sure of permanence, the custom of returning thanks for the bounties of nature or great victories is as old as the recorded history of man.

In our country Thanksgiving was first observed in 1621. The day has been kept since but as a tradition handed down thru succeeding generations rather than thru any official pronouncement.

President Lincoln, upon the urging of Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, issued the first proclamation urging national observance of Thanksgiving but with the War Between the States going full blast his words were heard by only a part of the nation. Since then presidents and governors have issued similar proclamations. Tradition established the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. Congress made that official by adoption of an act in 1941.

Thanksgiving is a day for special church services and all Americans should attend. We have so much to be thankful for. We live in more comfort than the early kings; we have luxuries that we have come to look upon as necessities; we have free schools; we are free to write or voice our opinions without the threat of jail or execution or to travel freely thruout our possessions.

True we are living under tension. We have been participants in a cold war for many years but we can thank God that it is not a hot one.

Those who have good health should be especially thankful and those who are ill or in pain should remember that someone else is suffering more.

Anyone of us can list scores of things for which we can be thankful. Too many of us don't take the time.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

"... You may tempt the upper-classes With your villainous demitasses, But Heaven will protect the Working Girl."

So ran the words penned by the late Edgar Smith and sung by Marie Dressler in "Tillies Nightmare," and in the absence of proof to the contrary one must agree that Heaven has been on the job.

Women no longer have to apologize for working; they have become a necessary part of the business and industrial world and many of them command salaries of sufficient size to enable them to be quite selective in picking out husbands.

If anything happened to the Working Girl the economy would be shot. Everyone would hurt—the banker, the baker, the candlestick maker and all the rest of the crew dealing with trade or services.

What can a young man do these days of rising prices unless he has a working wife? It is all that two can do to keep up an establishment of their own and still keep the Joneses in view.

Let's face it, it's roughsledding for a man to keep up the payments on the home, plus maybe payments on a second mortgage; plus payments on one, possibly two cars; plus payments on a boat; plus payments on a furniture, appliances, swimming pools, clothing, doctor bills, dentist bills; plus meeting utility bills, heating bills and bills for repairs and maintenance of home, sweet home.

On top of that, unfortunately, one must needs make book with the grocer, the butcher and the people who sell milk, rum or beef if one is to keep the body alive.

This all adds up to quite an outlay of money or promises to pay. This is no problem, of course, if the husband has inherited a fortune, has ultra rich and generous parents, uncles, aunts or doting grandparents, or draws a salary ranging from $25,000 a year up to a really, big BIG one. His next best bet is to marry a very rich and very generous gal.

Falling that he must wed a gal with a good job, and if living costs continue to make like a successful satellite shot one may not be enough.

Various legislative bodies have given Heaven a lift in the job of protecting the Working Girl by limiting her hours of toil, safeguarding her economic and legal rights in various ways and improving her marital rights and status.

Under old English common law it was all quite proper for a husband to beat a wife if he used a stick no thicker than

READ PSALM 65

Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, it is certain we can carry nothing out. (1 Timothy 6:6-7.)

Traveling in Great Britain some years ago, I stayed one day at a place called "Rest and Be Thankful." It was a beautiful spot, and, true enough, a period of rest there could fill one's heart with appreciation of God's manifold and gracious gifts. He revealed His goodness through nature.

Often we are so anxious to grasp more of the good things and the pleasure of this world that we forget what earthly blessings we already have. A moment of quiet rest and meditation will help us to realize that our bountiful God has given us many advantages and benefits. Moments of silent reflection will give us a deep feeling of gratitude for God's manifold mercies. We have not deserved all these blessings. They are all gifts of His grace.

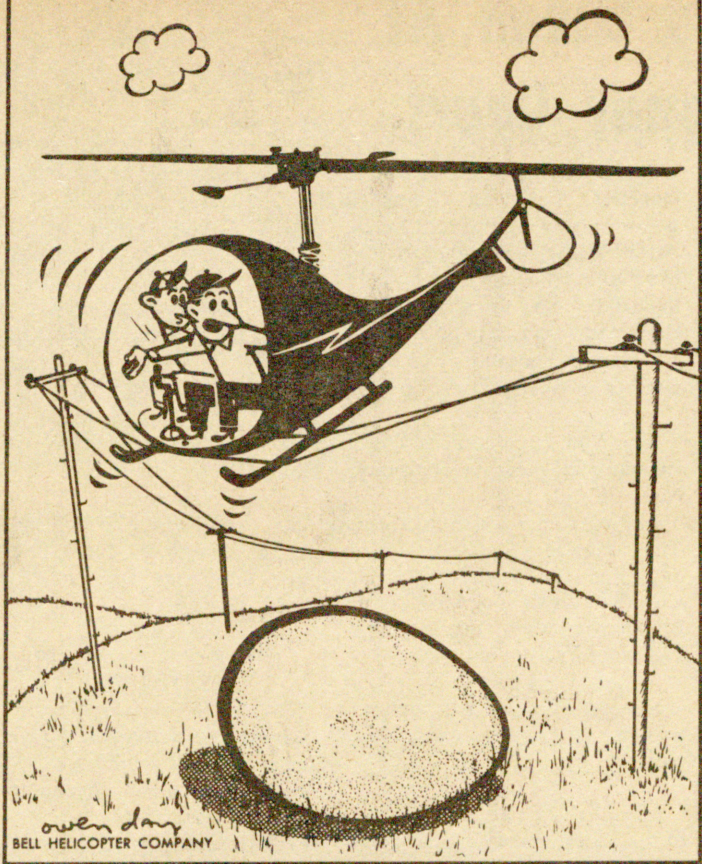

Moreover, a moment of quietness will release us from the compulsion of always trying to get more and more. To rest and be thankful will give us great gain - godliness with contentment.

PRAYER: Gracious Father, grant us grateful hearts. Open our eyes for the great gain to be ours in godliness with contentment. Give us the divine compulsion to seek the spiritual blessings, which we need more than anything else. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

and lower joint of his thumb. That's out now and it is just as well. With so many girls taking physical education, including courses that contain all the fine lethal points of combat training, a man would be foolish to hit one of them with a stick no larger than that. It might make them so angry he could wind up in a fracture ward.

My friend P. Jefferson Throtlebottom puts it this way: "Never hunt tigers with a squirrel gun."

"When I was a young man," P. Jefferson said, "the wages or salaries paid girls were nominal—like a white chip in a 10-cent poker game -- and besides that they quit work when they married. The task of supporting the family rested entirely on the husband. That is one of the reasons I never married."

He sighed deeply. "There I go," he wound up, "being a sentimental fool. If I could start all over again now I probably wouldn't get married but I would go somewhere where there were a lot of young people, with the girls and the boys both working and dreaming of homes and families. Then I would like to go in business, a sort of combination deal -- a real estate, furniture and auto agency. Ah, me!"

Again he sighed deeply, but this time happily.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

IN COOPERATION WITH THIS NEWSPAPER

(This is another in a series of articles provided as a public service by the Illinois State Bar Association for the Semmler Press)

OF CHILDREN, PETS

When the new baby-sitter arrived at the house to care for little Johnny, she didn't realize what was in store for her. Johnny, four years old, had developed the habit of throwing himself forcibly and violently at people he hadn't met before. This night his greeting to the unsuspecting baby-sitter was so ardent that he fractured both her arms and wrists.

The sitter wondered if Johnny's parents were responsible under the law to pay her hospital and doctor bills, since they knew of the boy's dangerous tendencies, but failed to warn her of them.

Ordinarily, parents are not liable to persons injured by their children, because they do not direct or control the wrongful action, and therefore are not legally responsible. However, if the act which causes the injury is done at the parent's direction or with his consent, or aids his business, the parent may be liable if he knows of the child's dangerous tendencies and fails to warn others of them.

Also, a parent may be liable if he gives his child a dangerous instrument knowing that the child is not capable of using it carefully. So, if Mrs. Smith lets his inexperienced 12 year old son use a shotgun, he might well be liable to a person accidentally injured by the son.

In contrast, if Mr. Candy allows his 14 year old son to operate the family motorboat, and the son has done so safely for several years, Mr. Candy would probably not be bound to pay damages to a swimmer injured by the boat.

A knowing failure to prevent use of dangerous articles by the child may be another source of the parent's liability. George Brown, who knew his children threw rocks at passing autos, may be liable for resulting injuries if he takes no steps to stop them.

The same rules pertain to the use of the family automobile by a child. Generally, Illinois courts hold the parent not liable unless the child was driving at the parent's request or direction, or on the parent's "business." And so a mother who sends her son in the family

Countryside News And Views

By: JAMES FIZZELL, ASST. FARM ADVISER

Now that the leaves have fallen, it is a good time to prune trees and fall blooming shrubs. Thin out about one-fourth of the oldest branches of the shrubs and cut back the remaining branches to a good size shoot or bud. Remove the least desirable of any branches on the trees.

Avoid narrow V-crotches on the trees. When one begins to develop, cut off one of the branches.

Remove sucker growth on the inner portions of the large branches.

When removing large branches, cut upward (under cut) the branch three inches from the trunk. Then cut downward six inches from the trunk. When the branch falls, it will not split the trunk. Remove the remaining stub by cutting as close to the tree as possible. Tree wounds always heal from the outside in. Because of this an elliptical, vertical wound will heal faster than a round one. Paint any large wounds with asphalt base tree paint.

An excellent bulletin on pruning trees and shrubs is available free of charge from the Extension Service Office, 201 North Duntun Avenue, Arlington Heights.

Bagworms cause considerable damage to evergreens, trees and shrubs in this area. In fall, mature bagworms can be identified by their gray, spindle-shaped sacks, securely attached to twigs and branches of the plants. Within these sacks are the eggs of the bagworm. Next May, these eggs will hatch, and the young worms will begin to feed on your trees and shrubs.

An easy method of controlling these insects is to remove all the bags from the plants now, while you can see them. The bags should then be burned or otherwise destroyed. If it is impractical to remove all the bags from the plants, of course, spraying the evergreens with lead arsenate next spring will give additional control.

While you have the fire going, pull up and burn all diseased annuals, rose leaves and other plant material which could carry diseases over winter.

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The total spending for the holiday season is expected to set a new record. Sales are predicted to be as much as 4 per cent above those of a year ago.

Several investment services are advising a fully invested position on basis of improving business picture and higher prices.

Due to the increased deficit in our balance of international trade, we are again losing gold. Some of those who trade in international currencies and gold, are predicting higher gold prices and devaluation of the dollar. Naturally, producers of gold are desirous of higher prices. However, it seems doubtful there is to be any change in price of gold, on the basis of banking literature and actions.

A number of leading analysts express belief that the government deficit for fiscal 1962, will exceed the latest official estimates.

Officials point out inflationary bulges in the price level, are not likely in the near future due to excess productive capacity. Some students point out conversely that the unemployment figure is down to less than 4 per cent and expected to go lower.

They also point to the likely pattern of higher wage demands with consequent price increases.

Business leaders would seem to be concerned regarding price increases and possible government efforts to control prices. From a study of news stores as to subject of many of the leading discussions, fear of government efforts at controls is one of the leading study areas. Of course, the pessimists usually get the biggest headlines.

It is frequently noted that the leaders of the large labor unions are constantly fighting ambitious members who want control of the particular labor group. This is not too unusual since control of a large labor group carries large political car to the store for groceries - family "business" - may be liable for the son's negligent injury to others.

Parents are not liable for the contracts of their children, nor must they pay persons who sell goods to their children. There is an exception to the rule: In Illinois, parents have the duty to provide certain "necessities" for their children, such as shelter, food, clothing, medical attention, and reasonable education. If the parents fail to supply those items to their children, they may be forced to pay persons who do so.

Many of us keep domesticated animals, such as dogs, cats, ponies and horses. The owner is liable for injuries caused by a pet if he is aware of the dangerous tendency of the animal and fails to take reasonable steps to warn or protect others.

Illinois has a special rule for dogs: An owner is liable for all injuries sustained by a person whom the dog attacks, if the person was in a place where he had a right to be, such as a sidewalk or a public highway. This liability follows whether or not the owner was aware of the dog's vicious nature.

However, if the injured person aggravated the dog by kicks or the threatening gestures, the owner is not liable; for animals as well as humans have a right to defend themselves from attack.

efforts made to evade or repeal the rule.

Obviously, if price is controlled it is likely to be a political control to satisfy a reasonably large segment of the industry. The price set will be one at which most units in the industry will make a profit.

Unfortunately, not all of the units are equally fortunate in their costs and profits due to location, management abilities, etc. A few will make large profits and others on the edge of solvency. The better managed will buy up the laggards, etc.

Production is nearly impossible to control short of a dictatorship and bayonets.

Attempting international price controls on commodities runs into same axioms of economics and same results. Our politicians still spend money trying to repeal the law. Countries producing of tin, coffee, rubber, sugar, etc., want aid in world markets, but will not or cannot control production.

An old rule of economics, is that prices cannot be controlled without control of production.

Even tho this rule is well known to students of economics, in and out of government and the world over, constant efforts made to evade or repeal the rule.

Obviously, if price is controlled it is likely to be a political control to satisfy a reasonably large segment of the industry. The price set will be one at which most units in the industry will make a profit.

Unfortunately, not all of the units are equally fortunate in their costs and profits due to location, management abilities, etc. A few will make large profits and others on the edge of solvency. The better managed will buy up the laggards, etc.

Production is nearly impossible to control short of a dictatorship and bayonets.

Attempting international price controls on commodities runs into same axioms of economics and same results. Our politicians still spend money trying to repeal the law. Countries producing of tin, coffee, rubber, sugar, etc., want aid in world markets, but will not or cannot control production.

An old rule of economics, is that prices cannot be controlled without control of production.

Even tho this rule is well known to students of economics, in and out of government and the world over, constant Accepted as a new member in the organization was Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Elm St.

The group discussed the advisability of sponsoring dances for neighborhood teen-agers, but deferred final decision on the project for a future meeting. They planned the annual Christmas party which will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 12, at the Blue Willow Tea Room on Rte. 7. At that time secret pals' names will be revealed and a gift exchange will be enjoyed. The Auxiliary also wishes to remind those who donated food to the recent smorgasbord, that there are many good containers left at the Fire House, waiting to be reclaimed.

The meeting of the Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors which was announced for Nov. 16, was postponed because of Mr. Henningsen's death. It will be held on Thursday, Nov. 30, at Homer Church.
The Missionary Society of the church will meet also on Nov. 30 at the parsonage, with Mrs. Stanley Cox and Mrs. Geo. Burcham as hostesses. At this time the Mission boxes should be brought to the meeting. The money from this project goes to the Pilgrim Missionary Society which is the authorized mission work of the Congregational Association.
Funeral services were held Friday from the Gerharz Funeral Home for Harry Henningsen, formerly of Peoria, who died Tuesday, Nov. 14, at Silver Cross Hospital at the age of 83. For the past year he had lived in the John Donahue home on 143rd St. Mrs. Donahue was his niece. His wife, the former Margaret Welter, preceded him in death two years ago. Surviving him are three sisters, Mrs. Edna Singer, Mrs. Marie Hubbard and Mrs. Florence Tait.

Donald Zolecki expects to come home soon.
A building permit has been issued to Leo Ganzel of Chicago for a four-room frame house to be erected on Cedar Rd. between 143rd and 147th.
Keith Le Grand is at home on 151st St. for a seven-day leave from the Marines, because of the death of his grandfather who has been living in Arkansas.
Carolyn Drewes, Lana Carlson and Dianne Moravec observed their birthdays on Nov.

16, 17 and 18, respectively.
Brownie Troop 175, made up of 20 third graders from Reed School, met at the school last Tuesday evening for their investiture service. Each Little Brownie found herself as she looked into the pond to find the Elf who was to become the Little Helper at home.
The girls had taken an invitation to their mothers to be guests at this service, and to prove she was truly a Little Helper, each one served her guest with punch and cookies.
The troop leader is Mrs. George Burcham, and the assistant leader is Mrs. Charles Toomey.

The annual meeting of Homer Church will be held Dec. 3, following morning worship and a pot-luck dinner. Reports from all church officers and auxiliary departments will be heard as well as the election of new officers.

CUT THE COST
KEPT THE COMFORT AND BIG-CAR RIDE!

One look and you'll know that this new Mercury Meteor carries on the great Mercury tradition of excellence. Look at its beauty, its fine appointments and upholstery. Better yet, drive it. That's the true test of quality. You'll ride vibration-free, thanks to Cushion-link suspension and the unitized body. And the 116.5 in. wheelbase and 203.8 in. length make it ride like a big car, handle like a compact.

Meteor needs service only twice a year! 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 30,000 miles between major lubrications. Anti-freeze lasts two years or 30,000 miles. Brakes adjust themselves.
Compact-car gas mileage from either the "6" or the new high-performance V-8. Turns, parks like a compact...equals the room in most big cars (the trunk holds 15 suitcases)!

Coming November 30th...be sure to see it!

Indeed, those wonderful awards that we are so proud of, are inspiring us to even greater achievements during the coming days.
Our employees in the print shop, offices, editorial, photographic, sales and circulation departments are doing their very best to serve you and your community and, in so doing, are looking for the added pleasure of winning more awards at next year's meeting.

Rescue 2 Sewer Workers From Cave-In At N. Lenox

Two men escaped death in a cave-in of a sewer trench at New Lenox Monday morning. The two, employees of the Shannon Plumbing Co. of Chicago were at the bottom of a trench about 10 feet deep when one of the side walls suddenly broke loose. One man was covered by the sliding earth. The other was flung back against the wall that stood.

Fellow workers came to their aid and in approximately 10 minutes had freed both victims. Thomas Killarney, 23, of 5138 Loomis street, Chicago, the one who was covered, was still on the critical list at Silver Cross hospital in Joliet yesterday.

His companion, Jack Carney, 36, of 6401 Justine st., Chicago, was x-rayed, treated for multiple bruises and released from the hospital.

Killarney was fortunate in that when he was covered by the falling earth an air-pocket formed about his head so he was able to get sufficient air to keep alive.

Weight of the earth, however, is said to have caused a fracture to a shoulder and it is possible he has internal injuries. He also was suffering from severe shocks. Both the men were taken to the hospital in the Baskerville ambulance.

The cave-in occurred in a ditch along the north side of U.S. 30, across the street from the Moss Implement Co. office. The sewer line is an extension from the village system to serve the apartments that are being built on Cooper street.

Crash At U.S. 45 & 191st Claims Life Of Driver

A Chicago man was fatally injured and an Arbury Hills man was severely injured in a two car collision Wednesday morning on Route 45, at 191st St., north of Frankfort.

Aaron Corley, 66, of Langley St., Chicago, driver of one of the cars, died last Thursday morning at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet. Coroner Willard G. Blood said death was attributed to crushing injuries and an inquest is pending.

The condition of Donald Eugene Waters, 32, of Catalpa St., Arbury Hills, is listed as fairly good. He was a passenger in the car operated by John Hayden, 31, of West Pine St., Arbury Hills. Water suffered severe lacerations of both wrists, requiring tendon repair in surgery. He was given plasma and treated for shock upon arrival at Silver Cross. He also sustained several fractured ribs. Hayden received emergency treatment for abrasions and bruises and was released.

In Mr. Corley's car were his wife, Purdy, 60, and Mrs. Ardelia Fitzpatrick, 39, of Markham. They were discharged from Silver Cross following treatment of minor injuries. State Trooper Earl Cantone said the Hayden auto was northbound on Route 45 when the Corley car, traveling west on 191st St., pulled into the path of the Hayden vehicle after stopping at the stop sign. The Corleys were en route to Harvey. Mr. Corley's body was taken to a Joliet funeral home from where it was sent to Chicago for funeral services and burial.

Teachers Talk Over Programs For L-W Area

The Lincoln-Way Area Teachers Association, which has 130 members from the high school and grade school districts included in its boundaries, met Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Frankfort grade school.

Scholarships planned by the association for area students were discussed and the various subjects taught in grade and high school levels formed the basis for committee meetings. LeRoy Wright, superintendent of the Frankfort grade school, was present in a double capacity—host and also president of the association.

The business session began at 4 o'clock. Coffee was served.

Area Residents To Show Horses In Competition

Several area residents are entering horses in the 10th annual 1961 International Quarter Horse show to be Dec. 4, 5 and 6 at the International amphitheater, Union Stock yards, in Chicago.

Don Gerdel of Lone Pine ranch, Mokena, has six horses entered in 11 classes. Glenn and Beverly Vally of New Lenox, entered three horses in three classes. Tom Platzer of Palos Park, a member of the 4-H Bronco Buster club, has enrolled his horse. Also entering one event is Amy Goodwin of Lemont, a member of the Bronco Busters.

ESCAPE INJURY

Dennell Bell of Frankfort was arrested for improper lane usage and traveling too fast for conditions, following an accident on Route 30, a mile east of Route 45 early Friday morning. Bell was westbound on 30 when his auto collided with an eastbound car operated by Cecil Larsen of the U.S. Airforce hospital, Belleville. No one was injured.

First Half Lead Stands Up And L W Wins

BY PAUL BROWN

Lincoln-Way varsity basketball team opened the season last Friday at Plainfield with a win over the host team. The Knights finished on top of a 38 to 34 score but just managed to make it.

Only a piling up of points in the first half saved the day for Lincoln-Way. The Knights scored 26 points to their opponents eight in the first half. In the second half it was the Plainfield team that tallied 26 points. Fortunately for Lincoln-Way it managed to rack up 12 points or four more than did Plainfield in the first half. And that was the margin of victory.

When the first quarter ended Lincoln-Way was leading 12 to 2 but no one thought it was going to be a rout. Basketball is like bowling in that what appears to be a commanding lead disappears quickly when the opponents start hitting.

The Knights still held a big lead at the half and then Plainfield started cutting it down, outscoring L-W 10-5 in the third period and 16 to 7 in the final frame.

Lincoln-Way second start of the current game season was taken to a Joliet funeral home last night, Wednesday, Nov. 22, against Peotone, on the Knights own lists. This is a non-conference game, of course, but there appears to be considerable rivalry between the two schools.

Top scorers for the Knights was Ron Yunker, one of Lincoln-Way's gridiron aces, who chalked up a total of 17 points. Top scorer for Plainfield was Rick Jewett, with nine points.

Peotone served notice on its foes last week-end that anyone who figures the Blue Devils are to be lightly regarded had best revise their estimates. In its game against Beecher last week Peotone won by a score of 82 to 50. And any team that comes up with a score of 80 better is making a lot of baskets and any team that makes a lot of baskets is tough in any competition.

The Community club of Schmulh school will hold its next regular meeting on Friday, Dec. 1, at 8 o'clock. The meeting date was set a week later due to the holiday.

Since the school enrollment has increased rapidly many important issues will be discussed and decisions made. Newcomers to the Schmulh school area are urged to join the Community club and participate actively by attending the meetings.

An educational film will be shown by Matthew Racich, principal at the school.

The fourth grade mothers will serve refreshments.

Sandra Kooyenga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kooyenga, was chosen vocalist, took part in the first annual Young Artist recital, Sunday afternoon in the Blackhawk conservatory at Park Forest.

Others chosen to take part were Christine Goodell, piano solo, and Rosalee Turkel, violinist.

Sandra studies under Mrs. Cornelius Vleugel of Park Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mattes attended the First Communion service for their granddaughter, Linda Mattes, at St. Ita's church in Chicago, Thursday morning.

Members of the Busy Hour 4-H club met Nov. 16 at the home of Miss Barbara Taylor. The girls planned to meet this year in the different homes of members at evening meetings. Topics discussed were Achievement Night that was held Nov. 17; how large the enrollment should be this year; and projects for the members this year. New members welcomed into the club at this meeting were Linda Clark, Linda Istel, Kathy Hazelet, and JoAnn Stricker.

The Busy Hour 4-H club girls received many awards at Achievement night, Nov. 17 at Lincoln Way high school.

Cook Co. Election Costs Long Search Ends; Pet To Be Up Over $-Million Found At Marley Home

(CNS) Operation of the election department of County Clerk Edward J. Barrett's office will cost $2,517,613 for 1962, which is $1,129,173 greater than the department's 1961 appropriations, Chief Deputy County Clerk George S. Smith told the county budget committee this week.

The sharp rise, it was explained, will be due to the 1962 primary and fall elections, plus reregistration and canvass costs.

An increase of 10 new employees are asked for in the new budget. This would bring the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snure, in Joliet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crisman and children went to Chicago where they were guests at a family gathering in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cullen and family went to Chicago where they spent the holiday with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walsh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy and children had as their guests for the day, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Birmingham, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mattes were guests for Thanksgiving dinner at a family gathering in the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Mattes, in Chicago.

A Sawyer, Mich., family who lost a dog about Nov. 10 were happily reunited with the animal last week after it was located at the home of Mrs. Bud Sievert of Marley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott said that their grey, female Siberian Husky named Tundra wandered away from her owner while being walked and was traced to Joliet about 85 miles away.

After extensive travelling and expenditure of money, the Scotts learned that a transient befriended the dog, put it in his car and drove away. The person was traced to Joliet, Mrs. Sievert read an article pertaining to Tundra and called the police, reporting that she and her husband had an animal of this type in their possession. Mrs. Sievert explained that the dog was given to them in September by a friend in Rockdale who said the dog had come to his home. The Sieverts named her Susy and became quite attached to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott went to Marley last week. The dog immediately jumped up on Mrs. Scott, began licking her hand and making canine "happy" sounds. As a climax to a long search, Tundra accompanied her owners back to Sawyer and home.
